- absorbed into my favourite corner of the marsh

. . . here is the secret; forget self, give up self, ignore self, look to the Master, look only at Him, accept as coming directly from His love both joy and suffering; this places the soul on such serene heights!

Elizabeth of the Trinity